OUR ORGANISATION

The Transforming Autism Project (ADD LINK?) is a new charity focusing on early intervention for young autistic children. Our goal is to truly transform lives through the home-based family services available to families with young autistic children.

We also challenge conventional perceptions of autism and offer our own radical and empowering perspective. This can be seen in our TED talk, which has now been viewed by well over 200,000 people and received great acclaim from the autistic community.

What is distinctive about our approach is that it focuses on facilitating a strong trusting relationship between child and their parents/primary caregivers, as primary means of reducing anxiety and enhancing the child's sense of security to enable them to realise their full potential.

We are a strongly values-driven organisation, and are committed to manifesting our values in how we relate to each other, in what we are trying to achieve and in how we do it. Our values come under 3 core headings:

Unconditional Respect	Courage	Purpose
<ul style="list-style-type: none">•Kindness•Trust-based Collaboration•Responsivity	<ul style="list-style-type: none">•Pioneering Big Thinking•Ambition•Perspectives, Not Positions	<ul style="list-style-type: none">•Positive Approach•Ownership•Continuous Learning & Improvement

The Transforming Autism Project (TAP) is currently launching the Support programme aimed at young autistic children and their parents/primary caregivers. The Support programme is jointly implemented by a team of child psychotherapists and paediatric occupational therapists alongside support from Norland College.

The Transforming Autism Project value diversity and we're committed to creating an inclusive culture where everyone is able to be themselves and to reach their full potential.
